

Court Tosses Decision Into Convention Maw

New Hope For McGovern Challengers

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern's presidential challengers, buoyed by a Supreme Court ruling that tossed the California credentials case before next week's Democratic National Convention, worked today to chip away at the front-running South Dakota senator's massive delegate lead.

On the scene ahead of McGovern to meet with delegates in this warm resort center were Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, Edmund S. Muskie, Henry M. Jackson, and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills. They hailed the high tribunal's 6-3 ruling Friday night. It stopped a lower court from restoring 151 disputed California delegates to McGovern.

Preparing to fly here today to take personal charge of his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination, McGovern said in Washington he was confident "the American sense of fair play will win out in Miami" and give him back the California delegates.

His political operatives, who spent much of the day planning for the floor fight expected Monday night on the California credentials case, said they expected to win by at least 50 votes in a showdown that could have a decisive impact on the fight for the nomination itself.

"The nomination is Monday night. It's not Wednesday night," commented Harold Himmelman, a Cleveland lawyer who is a McGovern political aide.

An afternoon caucus of Democratic governors provided one forum for the presidential hopefuls to seek delegates. A number of the state executives head blocs of uncommitted delegates.

If McGovern wins the California credentials fight, he would

Packer's Offer Fails To Satisfy Growers

Demonstrations Continue At Area Cherry Processing Plants

A reported offer of eight cents a pound for tart cherries by a major southwestern Michigan processor today apparently failed to cool the ardor of grower-members of Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing association (MACMA) for their 10-cent per pound demand.

They continued a series of mass demonstrations at area processing plants this morning, and made plans to conduct a selective boycott of cherry packers beginning Monday.

The tart cherry harvest is expected to get started in earnest Monday. Until noon today, the highest price offer made public by area processors was 7.2 cents a pound for 92-score fruit. This compares to 10 cents per pound last year.

Some 150 growers staged "mass visitations" at three area processing plants Friday, while MACMA leaders conferred inside with the firms' officials.

Growers outside declared a 15 per cent set-aside of this year's crop under a federal marketing order should make the supply of cherries reaching the market no greater than last year, when the packers were willing to pay 10 cents a pound for the raw product.

Harry Foster, secretary of the MACMA cherry marketing committee, said Michigan Fruit Canners, Benton Harbor, announced at noon today that it will pay 8 cents a pound for 92 to 100 score cherries.

Meanwhile, a delegation reported at around 100 growers called at the plants of Burnette Farms Packing Co. in Keeler, and the Duffy-Mott plant at Hartford today.

Beginning Monday, MACMA will set up "gate watches" at processing plants that are selected as targets for the selective boycott. MACMA members and other growers will be asked not to deliver cherries to the designated plants. Foster indicated the packers offering the lowest prices would be singled out for attention first.

Foster said, however, harvest time is at hand and there is no intention to ask growers not to harvest the crop. "It has to be picked," he said.

Approximately 150 to 175 tart cherry growers appeared outside United Foods Inc., of Sodus and then traveled on to Silver Mills Frozen Foods Inc.,

PRICE SPREAD: While their husbands demonstrated across the street Friday in Sodus trying to win 10 cents a pound for cherries, three leaders of Women for Survival of Agriculture in Michigan bought two 14 pound packages of frozen cherries at Sodus Supermarket. The

Michigan Democrats In New Role

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Michigan Democrats play an uncertain and historically awkward role as they step into the glaring limelight of national party politics here this weekend.

In the past, the state has been almost the classic example of liberal, northern politics where blacks, whites and blue-collar unionists stood together in more or less happy solidarity.

Now, when they take their seats at the national convention starting Monday, the 132 Michigan delegates represent the high water mark of southerner George Wallace's march through the north in the spring primaries.

Fully 67 of the delegation are Wallace's, representing the overwhelming 51 per cent plurality that he racked up back on May 16 in the Michigan primary one day after being shot in a Maryland supermarket parking lot.

U.S. Sen. George McGovern, who has been figured to be within some 55 votes of the party's nomination if he can claim all of the contested California bloc, has only 38 Michigan votes. Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has 27 from the state. There are no uncommitted delegates.

Under the hastily written law that cleared the state legislature earlier this spring, all of Michigan's delegates are supposed to vote for their avowed favorites through two rounds of balloting.

Most appear likely to do so, although there's no legally binding retaliation available to apply against anyone who bolts. The point has been a sore one with Wallace supporters who have contended some, nominally committed Wallace delegates are hiding their real allegiance to McGovern.

The convention will vote on a credentials committee recommendation that three women

Stars Aid Democrat Telethon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Democratic National Committee has enlisted more than 100 entertainment and sports personalities to raise funds in an 18-hour telethon this weekend.

The event, which will be broadcast on the ABC network starting tonight, is an effort to save the two-party system, Democratic spokesmen said.

Money pledged by viewers is to be used to help pay off $9 million in party debts.

The telethon will originate from Los Angeles from 7 p.m. tonight to 10 a.m. Sunday and from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 5 to 6 p.m. Sunday, with a few interruptions for other programming.

The show will be broadcast on 183 ABC affiliates, a spokesman said.

The party national committee has established 22 regional telephone centers, employing 10,000 telephones, to take calls from the public, sponsors said.

TRYING TO REACH VICTIMS: Berrien county sheriff's deputies and two unidentified men try to reach

Woman Dies When Truck, Car Collide

Illinois Resident Berrien's
28th Traffic Fatality

A former Spinks Corners area woman who had made her home in Illinois since 1967 was killed in a car-truck collision at about 10 a.m. Friday at the corner of Glenford road and Washington avenue.

Dead on arrival at St. Joseph Memorial hospital was Mrs. Elnor E. Magouirk, 64, of 1210 Lloyd avenue, Lombard, Ill. She was employed at Memorial Hospital, Elmhurst, Ill.

Miss Theo M. Baker, 79, Addison, Ill., a passenger in the car driven by Mrs. Magouirk, was listed in critical condition in the intensive care unit at Memorial Hospital. Miss Baker is suffering from multiple internal injuries, according to a hospital report.

The intersection at which the fatal crash occurred is located in Lincoln township, about five miles south of St. Joseph. Mrs. Magouirk's death was the 28th traffic fatality in Berrien county this year.

Mrs. Harold Arnold, 1373 Kingsman drive, St. Joseph, gave this eyewitness account of the accident to Berrien Sheriff's Deputy Don Zwar.

Mrs. Magouirk was south-bound on Washington and failed to come to a full stop at the stop sign. After slowing down, Mrs. Magouirk pulled into the path of the truck.

Mrs. Arnold said she was in a line of traffic going north and was about 30 feet from the accident.

The truck was driven by Gene Stehle, 29, 650 Crystal avenue, Benton township. Neither Stehle nor his passenger, Albert S. Harrison, 22, Lake street, Bridgman, required hospital treatment.

MRS. ELMER MAGOUIRK Dies In Smash-up

According to Deputy Zwar's report, Stehle sustained a bruised leg and Harrison a bruised hip.

The flatbed truck was owned by the Glenford Home Center. Stehle was traveling west on Glenford and skidded 42 feet before impact and 44 feet after impact.

Another witness to the accident was Mrs. Karen Best, who was sitting on her porch at 4036 Washington. She reported,

"I saw the truck jump into the air and dive into the ditch. There was a loud crash. I didn't see the car at all. I don't know where it came from. The door on the truck was flapping open and shut as the truck flew through the air."

Mrs. Magouirk formerly lived on Park road just north of Spinks Corners. She was reported to be en route to Spinks Corners, east of Benton Harbor, to visit friends at the time of the accident. Her husband, John, was employed by Auto Specialties before his death in June, 1967, after which Mrs. Magouirk moved to Lombard to make her home with a son, Charles.

Another son, Doyle, of Chicago and several grandchildren survive.

Mrs. Magouirk was born May 29, 1908, in Missouri, the daughter of Charles and Minnie Miller.

She was married to John H. Magouirk, Oct. 25, 1927, in Kennett, Mo. He preceded her in death on June 22, 1967. They had lived in the Benton Harbor area from 1941 to 1967.

Mrs. Magouirk was a member of Robert Road Bible church in Chicago.

Surviving are two sons, Glen D. Magouirk of Berwyn, Ill., and Charles H. Magouirk of Lombard, Ill., with whom she resided; three brothers, Curtis Miller of Poplar Bluff, Mo., Harv Miller of Granite City, Ill., and Charles Miller of Piedmont, Mo.; three sisters, Mrs. Thomas Davis of Missouri, Mrs. Warren (Lillian) Hargraves of Pontiac, and Mrs. Joseph (Flossie) Finn of St. Louis, Mo.; 12 grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Florin funeral home, Benton Harbor. Burial will be in Crystal Springs cemetery, Benton Harbor.

Signs Too Late To Save A Life

Four-Way Stop Decision Made
Before Fatal Crash

BY JAKE SHUBINSKI
Staff Writer
The corner of Glenford road and Washington avenue is now a four-way stop intersection. But the designation Friday came too late to save a life. Less than two hours before Berrien county road commission crews arrived to erect stop signs on the Glenford road approaches to the intersection, a car and truck collided killing Mrs. Elnor E. Magouirk, a former rural Benton Harbor resident who had been living in Lombard, Ill., since 1967.

After erecting signs here, the road crew went to the intersection of Glenford and Lincoln avenue where stop signs were erected on Lincoln avenue thereby making that intersection a four-way stop. On Wednesday, the fourth accident since early June was recorded at this corner.

Mrs. Karen Best, 4036 Washington avenue, and Mrs. Kathleen Baird, Glen Orchard road, head a committee of area residents who on June 12 presented a petition with 150 signatures to the Lincoln township board seeking four-way stop designation for the Glenford-Washington intersection.

"We started the petition on June 2," said Mrs. Baird, "and everybody in the area was happy to sign it."

Heath Calvin, engineer-manager of the Berrien county road commission, said he received the petition from the Lincoln township board just prior to the June 29 meeting of the road commission.

"We ordered a week-long survey of both intersections at that meeting and had agreed to erect stop signs Friday morning just before we heard about the accident," said Calvin.

Before going to the Lincoln township board with their petitions, Mrs. Baird and Mrs. Best had sought advice from Sgt. M. L. Osment, head of the state police district traffic department at the Paw Paw State Police post.

After the stop signs were erected, both Mrs. Baird and Mrs. Best were standing at the intersection calling at drivers to respect the four-way stop.

"It will take drivers on Glenford a while to realize they now have to stop here," said Mrs. Baird. "They usually go by here at a pretty fast clip."

Mrs. Baird, who says she has had some nurse training, keeps a well-stocked first aid kit in her home. "There have been many times that first aid kit has come in handy at this corner," said Mrs. Baird.

TOO LATE: This stop sign at the intersection of Washington avenue and Glenford was erected Friday morning a few minutes too late to save a life. A petition drive, headed by Mrs. Kathleen Baird, left, and Mrs. Karen Best, right, was responsible for the intersection being made a four-way stop. The two vehicles involved in the collision came to rest in the ditch to the right of Mrs. Best. (Staff Photo)

SCHOOL ELECTION

BH Voter Deadline Friday, July 21

The deadline for Benton Harbor school district residents to register for the August 21 special school election will be Friday, July 21, according to Robert R. Smith, district business manager.

The proposals to be voted on have not been decided yet, but the school board is expected to reveal its request at its regular meeting Monday night.

Unregistered voters living in the City of Benton Harbor must register at the city clerk's office from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. Persons living in the district outside the city must register with their respective township clerks.

Crash Victims File Suit

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Borden, Berrien county, have filed suit in Berrien circuit court seeking $250,000 against Clark Equipment Co. for injuries Borden allegedly suffered in an industrial accident last Jan. 4 at his company, Watervliet Foundry Co. of Watervliet.

Suit claims a Clark driver pulled a truck-trailer away from a loading dock there, pitching Borden and his fork lift to the ground.

Cass L. Yates, Sr., and Cass L. Yates, Jr., both of Benton Harbor, filed suit seeking $90,000 damages against Carolynne Hamey and Albert Reece, Jr., for injuries the plaintiffs allegedly suffered in a two-car crash Nov. 9, 1971, in Benton Harbor. The defendants are of Benton Harbor.

Van Buren Can Start Financing, Construction Plans

Vo-Ed Center Is Given Green Light

BY STEVE McQUOWN
Paw Paw Bureau
LAWRENCE — Van Buren Intermediate school district officials said Friday they have received a green light from their attorney, the state department of education and the intermediate district's school board to proceed with plans for financing and construction of a $2.5 million vocational education center.

And, in addition, according to Elmer VanDyke, superintendent of the district, if a federal fund application is approved, there could be a reduction of the three mills in tax levy approved by voters for the center June 12.

VanDyke was asked to comment on the financing because the voters in the election approved the levy but defeated a second proposal that would have authorized the selling of $3,300,000 in bonds to finance construction. The bonded debt would have been repaid from levy proceeds. He said the board voted to proceed with financing and construction plans after learning that the district's attorney, Fred Thrun of Lansing, said that construction could continue despite the split voter decision.

The state education department has also given its approval to levy the three mills and proceed with construction, VanDyke said.

But much of the planning depends on the approval of federal funds which could amount to as much as $1,258,000, or roughly 50 per cent of the construction costs of the 95,000 square foot building, VanDyke said.

He said approval of the federal funds would permit construction to begin in the spring of 1973 and be completed, barring unforeseen delays, by September of 1974.

During the construction interval, he said, there would be two tax collections of the voted three mills which would yield—on a 100 per cent collection basis—about $1,400,000, or the local share of the cost of the skill center's construction.

It would then be possible in about three years, VanDyke speculated, to reduce by perhaps .78 mills or more, the amount of revenue producing millage needed to operate the center.

Intermediate officials have said that about $550,000 will be required for the annual operation of the skill center which would have a capacity for 600 fulltime students and about 33 teachers.

Three mills levied against the district's present state equalized valuation of about $250,000,000 yields about $750,000 per year.

VanDyke conceded there has been some discussion about the legality of pushing ahead with construction in light of the split decision by voters in June.

But he said that the bonding proposal was put on the ballot as a protective measure in the event federal funds were not available. Legally it was not required, he said.

He added that if indeed, contrary to the anticipation of and optimism about receiving the federal funds, if the funds are not granted, the district will probably have to seek election approval of a bonding proposal to finance construction over a longer period.

"If we can avoid paying interest on bonds, we can save the taxpayers a lot of money," the superintendent emphasized.

He pointed out also that the Kalamazoo district is offering "only the three mill proposition" to voters in an upcoming election on a similar skills center.

Further, he said, Public Act 164, signed into law on June 15 by Gov. William Milliken, authorized a "pay-as-you-go" plan for using voted millage for construction of buildings for vocational education.

SJ Band Collects Its First European Gold

BY DICK DERRICK
SJ City Editor

GORINCHEM, The Netherlands — All of a sudden it was worth the long waiting, the hard work, and the perplexing problems.

The St. Joseph high school band, enroute to Vienna, gave a flawless performance in the center of this old Dutch town of Gorinchem and won a gold medal (Division I rating) Friday night.

The award is a monumental tribute to the band, its leaders, chaperones, and handlers.

This first big moment of triumph on European soil came at an International Youth Festival conducted in this typical Dutch community in the center of The Netherlands.

Before nearly 5,000 persons, the St. Joseph band put on a 25-minute exhibition after only one practice session and many harrowing travel problems.

St. Joseph came within just one and one-half points of winning the grand prize while performing only one night of the two night festival. First place went to Laramie, Wyo., with Estevan, Saskatchewan, Canadian band shading the St. Joseph band by one-half point.

In addition to the Canadian band and the host band from Gorinchem, there were eight other American bands in the festival, including three others than St. Joseph from Michigan.

The spontaneous reaction of the crowd was electric after the St. Joseph performance — first there was a wave of applause followed by three succeeding waves.

The St. Joseph band played the United States national anthem at the end of the two-and-one-half hour show.

St. Joseph used its free afternoon Friday to stage a rehearsal in the town square of Gorinchem.

The square is a product of the Dutch version of urban renewal. In front is a large church with the post office on one side, the city hall on another, and a row of stores on the fourth. The square is about one-half the size of a football field and when the St. Joseph band played, it just about filled up the square.

In sharp contrast to the first days of the trip, Friday was considerably more organized. The band got up, had a deluxe continental breakfast (St. Kabbriel college where bandmen have been staying in Nimjegen added a soft boiled egg to the roll, jam, and coffee) and then the band toured the Dutch countryside. The group visited a trout farm, took a ferry boat ride on the river Waal, and had an elegant dinner at the Hotel Excelsior. The band is scheduled to leave St. Kabbriel college at 9 a.m. today and head down the Rhine river valley to Rudesheim.

Sunday the band is scheduled to be in Munich, Germany, where the 1972 Olympics are scheduled for August.

UNCOVER HUMAN SKELETON: Workmen at Pawating Village townhouses near the old Fort St. Joseph site at Bond and Fort streets in Niles unearthed a complete human skeleton Friday morning. Also found were several square nails, indicating the body might have been buried in a wooden coffin. The grave site was about 50 feet from the memorial marker for Father Claude Jean Allouez, French missionary who died near that spot in 1689. A worker speculated the skeleton might be that of a teenager. The discoverers planned to turn the bones over to Andrews university. Pictured with their find are Robert Marshall of Galien, left, Dan Jacob of Niles and Glenn Kublick of Coloma. ## Coloma Votes Again Monday On Millage COLOMA — Coloma school district residents will re-vote Monday, July 10, on the six-mill property tax levy request defeated 725-586 in the annual school election June 12.

The proposed levy, which would extend for three years, consists of a three-mill renewal and an addition of three mills. If the six-mill request is approved, the district's total millage for 1972-73 would be approximately 32 mills. The proposed six mills would raise roughly $270,000 toward a proposed budget of $2.7 million.

Last year the district collected about 29.5 mills toward a budget of $2.5 million. School officials are seeking the additional millage to meet rising operating costs, to recoup a $30,000 cut in state aid, and to cover this year's operating deficit of $69,854.

According to school board members, defeat of the six mills would mean cutting $270,000 from next year's budget, resulting in elimination of all bus service and 12 teaching positions.

Other cuts being considered include not opening the two new schools currently nearing completion, reducing budgets for teaching supplies, and shortening the school day.

"The proposed cuts are not a threat," according to Marshall Badt, school board president. "We're dealing with facts," Badt said, "and if we are unable to receive a favorable vote on the millage we must operate the schools within our income and the cuts must be made."

Badt listed reasons why the school board is requesting the addition of three mills. One of the three mills, he said, is needed to operate the new schools.

He said the second mill "is needed for general increases in the cost of operating the schools" due to inflation. The third mill is needed to compensate for this year's reduction in state aid, he said.

Balloting will take place in Coloma township hall from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Birthday Gifts Stolen

The theft Friday evening of a dress and pair of stockings brought an appeal this morning from a woman, who said she purchased the items for her mother's 85th birthday.

The woman's name was withheld to keep the gifts a surprise. She said the items were gift wrapped and stolen from her car, parked in a lot off the 400 block of Pipestone, Benton Harbor. She hoped that the thief might have a heart and see that the items got into the hands of police for a return. Today was the mother's birthday.

Suit Claims Zoning Is Unconstitutional

A mobile home park developer stymied by Hagar township sued the township this week in Berrien circuit court to clear the way for park development.

David Barksdale of Stevensville, joined as plaintiff by owners of two parcels he intends to acquire for the park, seeks through Benton Harbor Atty. Stephen C. Small a court declaration that township zoning on the proposed parksite is unconstitutional. He also asks an injunction barring the township from enforcing zoning restrictions on the parksite.

Plaintiffs claim township zoning restricting the plaintiffs from using their property for a mobile home park is unreasonable, arbitrary, capricious, discriminatory, confiscatory and not based on a plan designed to accomplish health, safety and general welfare.

Plaintiffs besides Barksdale are the estate of the late Mrs. Luella L. Thar of Hagar township, owner of some 16 to 18 acres, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heyn of Baroda, owner of an adjoining 38.7 acres. The land is east of US-33 and north of Coloma-Riverside road and is zoned commercial and residential-agricultural, from which trailer parks are excluded, according to the suit.

AFRICAN PEOPLE ARE SHOCKED

Editor,
The African peoples of Rhodesia have been deeply shocked by the blatant disregard for the United Nations charter for human suffering in Rhodesia and for international law by the United States in violating the Security Council resolution imposing sanctions on Rhodesia.

Also strange are the ways of Great Britain, once master of the Seven Seas and Ruler of a vast empire upon which the Sun never set. In Northern Ireland Her Majesty's government maintains troops who have shot and killed members of the Catholic minority who challenge the sovereignty of the Protestant majority. Yet in Rhodesia the same government is appalled by any suggestion that military force be invoked to assure the Black majority its right to govern the country which is now ruled by a White minority of alien usurpers.

One cannot but wonder why this difference. Why such restraint in Africa and such lack of restraint in Ulster? Can it be that color is a factor? Can it be that Britain does not mind shooting down Irishmen ostensibly on behalf of other Irishmen differing only in religion but is alarmed at the prospect of using force against White Rhodesians who hold their Black fellow citizens in cruel subjugation? Is it that Britain basically believes this is the way things should be? The crisis does not advocate violence either in Ulster or in Rhodesia, either by the British, the Irish, or the Rhodesians, Black or White. There is another way. If Britain wants to assure democratic government in the African territory, she must insist upon strict enforcement of the United Nations political and economic sanctions. This she has failed to do.

Dr. Anthony Becker of Elgin, Ill., who holds four academic degrees, allowed us to participate in tests in Jan. 1970, 71 and 72. After five hours of testing each time, we reasonably assured we had a better projective technique tool of assessing the activity of personality traits by handwriting analysis.

Lake Michigan College Library and Andrews University College Library each has the Annual of the American Association of Handwriting Analysts, that will tell of other uses within USA, dealing with credit counseling, personnel selection, mental health, cancer, dyslexia, Parkinson's disease and graphotherapy for rehabilitation.

This week-end, July 7-9, the Handwriting Analysts Assoc. Inc., will meet at Hillsdale College to hear fellow member, Dr. Anton Brenner, Professor of Educational Psychology at Eastern Michigan. He studied at Munchen and Tubingen, where he received his Ph.D. His topic will be "What Handwriting Analysts can learn from Psychology."

Robert Raizel, a staff psychologist for the Cook County House of Correction, will talk on the Psychology of Graphic Expression.

Aug. 3-7 will be the convention of American Association of Handwriting Analysts at Loyola University, Chicago, at which the noted speaker will be Dr. Harry O. Teltcher, author of "Handwriting, Revelation of Self." He had been actively engaged in research in neuropsychiatry in collaboration with W. Eliasberg, M.D., with publication of their papers in psychological and medical journals. He is a member of the American Psychological Assoc., New York Society of Clinical Psychologists.

Dr. William Hallow, Director of Sociology Services of Mercyville Institute of Mental Health, Aurora, Ill., uses graphology in counseling work.

Graphotherapy will be demonstrated by Joen Gladich and Gisele Dalle Dadian of California, students of the original French Researcher, Paul de Sainte Colombe the Psycho-graphologist.

"Teenager's writing and their problem" will be my topic at the workshop on Aug. 3.

I mentioned a few of the speakers to assure you of the seriousness of our studies and to try to rectify the damage that Miss Landers is doing by stating this is a parlor game. True, some know the basic rules, which is a tool to human understanding, but that does not make them a full-fledged analysts. I can drive a car, but I am not a mechanic nor a race car driver.

Handwriting Analysts started as a hobby many years ago and it has served me with hard work and many hours of pleasure of being of service to my fellow men.

Thank you for giving me this opportunity to help clarify the status of Handwriting Analysis or graphology.

Gasoline Fumes Ignite

SOUTH HAVEN — A South Haven man suffered second degree burns last night in a fire in a basement of a home.

Leroy Tanner was burned when gasoline fumes ignited while he was cleaning an automobile carburetor. South Haven firemen said the fumes were set fire by a hot water heater. Tanner, who said he would seek his own medical attention, was burned on a leg.

The fire occurred at the Lois Patton residence, 330 Huron street. The fire was confined to the basement, although there was smoke damage to the rest of the house.

South Haven firemen answered two other alarms yesterday. They extinguished a fire in the sawdust blower system at the KKT company, 16th avenue, and doused a garbage pile fire on 11th avenue. The garbage had been dumped on the roadway when a truck owned by Solomon Newell caught fire.

The Payroll Savings Plan is for people who can't save a buck.

Ever notice how your paycheck sort of slips through your fingers before you get around to stashing a little away for the future?

Ever have a dream about a vacation, or a cottage you want, or a college fund you're going to build for your kids... then wake up ten years later just to find out you're no closer to making your dream come true than you were when you first had it?

You're not alone.

Everybody has trouble saving a buck these days. And, that's why there's a Payroll Savings Plan. Sign up where you work and an amount you specify will be set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. Before you can get your hands on it. Before you can spend it.

It won't be too long before you have a nice nest egg built up, a bankroll that's really worth something.

Join the Payroll Savings Plan. It's helped a lot of people... just like you.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (1% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.
